Complaint Type: Guarantee/Warranty Issues Status: Answered

On 4/23/21 I was contacted about a warranty for my car they stated they had been trying to contact me multiple times about per their voicemail. I called them back and was very skeptical about their service(s). So, when trying to deny their service they insisted on trying to make it cheater or arrange this to better suit the cost, but I still wasn't sure. I agreed to $95 payment, gave my debit card info. Once getting off the phone, I looked them up on the BBB website and didn't like what I saw so I called back and spoke with  (supervisor) for , who is who took my card info. I requested to void my transaction, but she insisted that if I take this info I received by e-mail from them, I could take to Toyota and they will verify it as good. I never received an e-mail or anything from them. I just want my $95 dollars back. They are scammers and everyone needs to know about them. Also,  states she would call back. Had my card cancelled."

I received a voicemail stating that I was out of compliance with my vehicle coverage and had to return their call or my coverage would be cancelled. Unsure of what coverage they were referring to, I called back and got roped into a sales call about extended warranty coverage. The sales representative ( *) walked through the high level details of the coverage and associated pricing structure. I asked if the details could be sent to me for review before I make a decision as to whether I'd like proceed or not. He said I had to pay $195, to protect their company from insurance fraud, before he could send over any details (which was suspect). I was told I had 30 days to review the warranty coverage and could cancel at any time within the 30 days and receive a full refund. After calling back just 10 days later they told me they couldn't refund me. I pushed back and asked to talk to the original sales rep and said they wouldn't connect me. I question the validity of this company.

Receiving an extended car warranty offer in the mail from SunPath, we decided to enroll & paid for 1 month's premium on 2/25/21 of $199.99. I was told I had 1 month to cancel if we changed our mind. On 3/22/21, my daughter called & had them cancel our enrollment & was told our refund would take 4-5 days to process. I called after 4 days to ask about the refund & was assured it was processed, but I had to pay a cancellation fee of $999.99. At NO time was I or my daughter told about a fee to cancel, nor was it stated on the letter I received. I said we were not informed of this ever. On 3/29/21, a lady called me stating we had to take care of the $999.99 fee & if we didn't pay it, they would put a lien on our car. She was very rude, yelling "be quiet & listen" so I hung up. On 3/30/21 I got a notice from a different company telling me I owe 2 months premiums and my contract is in effect for 3 years. They did refund us of $199.99 on 3/23/21. In no way am I responsible for a $999.99 fee.

The consumer has been refunded the amount that was debited from her account. The consumer was not debited any additional sum, specifically the cancellation fee referenced in the complaint. SunPath is unable to verify the consumer's other complaints, and is addressing this matter with the independent contractor that sold the policy to the consumer.

I was called 2/1/21 about a car warranty. I was told I had 30 days to decide & if I cancelled I would get my money back. I paid $199.00. I tried to email & their email on the website is invalid. I called the # I was given & did not get an answer. I spoke to someone the next day & was told it would be up to 10 business days to receive a confirmation # of cancellation. After 10 days I called & was told it would be $200 to cancel because they had lowered the bill for me when I explicitly stated I wished to cancel. I was told they needed some sort of payment for their system to let me cancel, even though it had only been a few days after the initial purchase. I have called multiple times & have tried 6 different numbers to speak to someone who could help me, asked for a manager & was told they weren't in that day. I had to get my debit card cancelled through my bank so I wouldn't get charged. Now I'm being harassed & threatened that they'll send me to collections if I don't pay them.

Sunpath LTD, withdrew $179.23 from my personal bank account for the months of March - August 2020 for a total of $1,075.38. This was for Extended Car Warranty which I did not sign up for or authorize for these charges to be deducted from my account. I never signed a contract and I was unaware of these charges because I was hospitalized from March - May and I was not receiving my bank statements. The 1st deduction was in March, and I don't know how they say that they spoke to me if I was in the hospital. I still had the manufacture warranty on my car, so why would I purchase another car warranty if I already had one? The bank gave me a reversal of two months for $358.46 because of the fraudulent charges on my account, but I would like the remainder of the money $716.92 to be refunded to me as soon as possible. I've had to cancel my checking account and change all my information because of these fraudulent charges from Sunpath LTD. I am elderly and on a fixed income and this situation has been very stressful for me. I called and spoke to *, the Claims Department manager, in September, and when I explained the my situation to him he told me it was a "phone call deal". I have made several attempts to contact them after that and they refuse to allow me to speak to a manager and say they owe me nothing. This is elderly abuse and I have already filed a complaint with the National Elder Fraud Hotline and with the Office of the Attorney General.

I was contacted by an operator by the name  about transferring my warranty over to them on September 23, 2020. He told me everything is covered, payments, and who will be in contact with me to cancel active warranty with a different company. I told I couldn't pay the deposit that day, but if he could give me a couple of days, and he said that was fine. He never told me anything about if I canceled with them that it was a cancellation fee. A gentleman by the name of  was going to contact me about that Friday about canceling active warranty and getting some of my money back from the other company.  did call, but it wasn't the scheduled time, so he asked if I wanted to call back at a later date and time. I said yes and we agreed on a different time. I never received a call back. I happened to check my account and I realized they had taken a payment out of my account. I tried to reach out and call them. I spoke with  . I explained the situation and she said that  was out because he was sick and wasn't in the office at the moment, but she will have to get someone to look it over and they will get back with me. I was really upset because she made me feel like my concerns were not important. Then I told her I want to cancel the warranty and she told me I would have to pay over $400, and she can take it down to $200. I asked her why I have to pay for a cancellation and she said that was the fee. I was even more upset and I told her I wasn't told about a cancellation fee when I was signed up for the warranty. She started being rude, cutting my conversation short when I was trying to ask her questions. She would not give me certain information until I threatened to contact the BBB. I was angry and called her rude. A few minutes after the situation transpired, I received a call back from . I was really surprised to hear from him, because  told me he was out of the office sick. He ask me what is going on, and I explained the situation to him. He started apologizing and he will get right on canceling my other policy. I told him, I wanted to cancel with them, because I didn't feel that my concerns were important and I did not appreciate the way myself and my situation was handled by . I told him that was poor customer service and I didn't want to spend my money with a company like that. He started telling me she was having a bad day and everyone has bad days, and how she just found out her dad had covid 19 and that was a lot on her. I explained that I understood all of that, but it still didn't give her the right to treat me like she did. I told him I wanted to cancel and I wanted my money back. I told him  told me my money will be refunded if I didn't want to stay with them.  said for a cancellation fee as well. He said for around $400, but he will make a deal for around $200+ if I paid that day. I told  I was not told about a cancellation fee by . I didn't want they service, I'm paying money for nothing and just refund my money.  said let him work something out. Each time he called back he came up with a solution that I will stay with them, and lower a payment or two. I told  I didn't want any of that, because the customer service I received from  made me feel like they didn't care about my needs. I told him I wasn't comfortable. He promised I will never speak to her again. He was missing how I felt about this situation. One of the calls he returned to me, he said  did mention the fee but he danced around it. I told him that was not my fault and it is not fair for me to have to pay for something I wasn't directly told about. He said he understood how I felt, and I told him no he does not. I told him I would close my account and open a new on and he said if I did that they would put it on my credit report. He also said that the money will automatically come out of my account. My bank will have to stop it, they don't have control over that. I said you have control to take my money, but not stop taking it? He told me he was going to get the situation resolved and never heard back from him since.

But when I call "Vehicle Activation Department" they state that to cancel they will have the cancellation department call me back. But they never call back. I have been trying to do this for weeks now and I am still waiting on a call back from these people. The way I signed up for this contract initially is also suspicious as it came from a robocall number which may be illegal. In my opinion they have lied. They are a front for a company which promotes Fraud, deception, lies, and cheating. Unless they actually come through with the total refund, which is due me, due to them canceling the contract and telling me point blank "They would not touch my car with a 10 foot pole", my mind will not change. I was told by the people I purchased the contract from that I would receive a refund within 10 days, then after 10 days with no refund I had to send in a request for refund with the mileage of the car (which I sent registered, return receipt and it is documented by the USPS), upon a call I made a week after they received it I was told it would take 30 days to process, then I could not get past a receptionist to talk to anyone, then I was ignored.)My next level of complaint, if no action is taken, will be with the Postal Fraud Division of the USPS, and the business Licensing in both  and  . Better Business Bureau: On 11/13/20 I received a credit card refund from  dba , of only $195.00. I called them and asked for  , who the phone receptionist said was no in. I asked to talk with the refund department and she said I couldn't. I then informed her that I had received the $195.00 refund on my credit card and wanted to know when the balance of $822.36 would be returned. She said it was pending. I asked her what "pending meant" and she started getting nasty. I then told her that I expected the balance refund of $822.36 to be sent to my Credit Card by close of business that day. She interrupted me and said, "Your refund was pending, have a nice day", and hung up on me. That was not only unprofessional but given that I have waited nearly half a year for a refund, completely uncalled for. Again, the refund balance due is $822.36.  I have reviewed the response submitted by the business and have determined that the response does not satisfy or resolve my issues and/or concerns in reference to complaint #  . I called 2 months ago to cancel my account because I no longer could afford the coverage and was told I could cancel at anytime. After the customer service person bugged me about not canceling my account he told me that it was taken care of and for a month no money was with debited out of my account. After the a month went by my account was auto drafted again. I immediately called and was told that I had only been given a month to think it over and that they would be drafting my account for payment. I told them that I had not wanted time to think it over and that I wanted to cancel my account not post fund to which he said that he was not going to let me cancel.

I was contacted in the end of May about an automotive protection plan which i was informed I would have 10 business days to cancel, from my receipt of an information packet on it sent to my address. During my phone conversation with a  customer service rep within that grace period in early June, i was assured by her that she put a mandate in their system not to charge the $144.00 that was set to be charged from my credit card later that month... Since then i have received two such charges for both June and July, and when i called  back on July 21st it was confirmed to me that the mandate was put in the system but the service rep did not understand why  still billed me. She told me i could not speak directly with the cancellation and refund department and that i needed to let her put a note in the system for someone to call me back... I never got that call back and i would like this contract cancelled as well as the two $144.00 payments plus the initial $100.00 down payment i made in May, refunded. This is a total of $388.00.

* is confusingly making it extremely hard to speak with them to rectify this issue that they themselves told me in early June would not occur. This complaint is one that I filed on 7/24/20 (#), but was afterwards notified that the business it needed to be directed towards was  and Sunpath LTD, the actual contract servicer... In mid-February of 2020, I was solicited by this company for an extension on my car insurance, and was told how I would have 30 days to cancel if I no longer wished to use the service. So I gave them my information, did some research, then two days later called them informing them I no longer wanted to the service and to cancel immediately. They told me I had to wait for a packet to come in the mail for more information. On 2/25/20 I was charged a $295 deposit, despite attempting to cancel. Two weeks go by, I never received this packet of information. I called again to cancel. On 3/14/20, I was auto-charged $179, for a service I had tried to cancel twice. I call back, telling them I need a full refund. And during this time they keep trying to convince me to stay with their insurance, and even offered me a much lower rate. This was frustrating, because I was clearly and repeatedly telling them I want to cancel. It was also frustrating to be given a quote nearly half of what they were charging me prior. I have called back multiple times, sometimes even in tears because I really needed the $474 I was owed and was no longer able to pay other bills as a result. I was told I would get a refund multiple times. It is several months later, and I still have not received a refund. This is by far the worst customer experience I have ever had. I feel robbed honestly.

I, , am Power of Attorney for . I am filing this complaint on 's behalf. It's regarding Contract # . This company along with another company just like them have been charging 's account for a vehicle protection plan. I also plan to file a complaint against them too. The books look the same: "Ultimate Auto Protection".  is older and has , does not drive anymore, thus no car on the road. Anyone who talks to her would realize in no time she is not of sound mind. Yet these people have managed to call her and trick her out of her card information for a warranty in which she doesn't need. Deceptive Practices. They started charging her account and have been charging $188.39 a month.  never signed a contract with them and never signed a credit card direct pay authorization form with them. They have no right to be charging her. In order to enter into a contract a person has to be of sound mind, right? That's law 101. As I said before anyone who talks with her for any length of time would see she has memory problems. They have taken advantage and its an expensive advantage. I would think this would also fall as Elder Abuse. These sales people just continue to badger you with phone calls. Note: I tried to call Sunpath Funding at  and it puts me on hold with hold music for 30 seconds and then disconnects. Even that is suspicious.

I did.. several times... ,  and  all told me that  was the only person that could do the refund

The one with  has been cancelled on their side and  owes me a refund, but   still has it as active, and no one can get into contact with   . Also, I never received anything from   nor was there a contract on file on their website.   is the seller while SunPath Ltd. is the company that charged $195 on my

I contacted a customer service representative from Sunpath Ltd. named, . She told me that they do have 3rd party sellers and she tried calling   with the number   gave me on file and the number was no longer in service. I can prove that it was intentional on both sides. In order to qualify for an extended warranty, the car owner must have insurance on the vehicle. Sunpath Ltd. approved a contract knowingly that it was forged/fraudulent. Sun-path and   have violated federal laws. They have committed forgery and fraudulent actions, which are felonies. As of January 15, 2020 his total miles was 17,435; so he only put 532 miles in a month. (He does not drive far, only to the grocery store, church, doctor's appointments and dialysis.) Service contracts administered by SunPath contain written terms and conditions, including those governing service contract cancellation. All consumer requests for service contract cancellation must be in writing and must be addressed to the vendor that sold the service contract to the consumer. According to SunPath records, and those of the selling vendor, Vehicle Activation Department, there is no written record of the consumer requesting cancellation of his service contract. The consumer has not provide any written documentation to confirm his request. SunPath has a telephonic record of the consumer requesting information on the service contract cancellation process. As a courtesy to the consumer, SunPath has cancelled to service contract as of the date of the telephonic inquiry, and refunded the payments made by the consumer after that date ($349). No additional debits will be made.

This company sold two identical extended car warranties on the same vehicle. The car only had 30,533 miles.  is a senior citizen with  and they took advantage of him selling him these policies. This just came to light in October 2019. A call to the company was made along with a letter, sent certified return receipt on Nov. 1, 2019. They took two down payments of $195.00 along with two monthly payments for each contract (charged to: Sunpath Warranty  ) of $133.88 for a total of $657.76. These charges have been made to his credit card, the account now has been closed. His name and number must be on their list that they give to other warranty companies, because he has been scammed as well by them now paying for multiple warranties on the same vehicle from multiple warranty companies. Their business practices are deplorable. He receives warranty calls regularly, and due to his confusion, he has fallen victim to their business practices.

SunPath has researched the claim made in the consumer's complaint. According to our office, the consumer has a single contract that is administered by SunPath. The contract ID for the this contract is . It's possible that the consumer was sold an additional contract that is not administered by SunPath. SunPath can only address issues pertaining to that contract, but will otherwise try to be of assistance. From the text of the complaint, it appears that the consumer has a personal representative assisting him. It would be most helpful if that representative called SunPath () and asked to speak to the Legal Department. The representative should reference the BBB complaint and the consumers name. SunPath will work with the representative to achieve the desired outcome.

I do not accept the response made to complaint #  .  is my father, and I am representing him in this complaint. At his home, I found two contract booklets for your extended car warranty both containing the Policy # . According to his credit card account, two down payments were charged, one on July 23 for $195.00 and a second on July 26 for $195.00. So, it appears you took two down payments but in reality only have one policy? Monthly payments were then charged to his credit card account on August 21 for $133.88 and again on September 23 for $133.88. We want any and all policies cancelled in his name. Due to the fact that he was taken advantage of when purchasing this warranty, we want to know the exact amount that will be refunded. I received a call that my cars factory warranty was about to expire and was prompted to getting an extended warranty through this company. After the first month was almost over I decided I no longer wanted the warranty. I called to cancel after paying $100.00 down payment and two monthly payments of $121.96 and the employee I spoke with advised to me to complete an form and mail to to their main office. The first letter/form I sent when I called to check the status they claimed to have not received it so, I sent another and they then advised me that once they received it I had passed my 30 day window to cancel. I then on this day 9/26/19 while speaking with  asked to speak with the manager and was told the manager had stepped out and  said he would expedite my full refund of $343.92 that day. So I was pleased when we ended that call and waited the typical 48 hours for my refund to post. On 9/30/19 I received a refund of only $100.00. I then called back on 10/08/19 and spoke with  . I explained the nature of my call to her, told her what was discussed with the call I had with  the weeks prior and that I wanted to know what was the hold up with my refund.  said as she looked through the notes nothing  and I discussed was documented, my refund of $100 was not documented and, the notes said I has spoken to a manager that day even though I had not only  . She then told me she would documents everything we discussed on the call and the manager would contact me within 72 hours. Once I didn't hear from anyone I called back on 10/11/19 and spoke with  who claimed to be the manager. On the call with  he said he would NOT refund me my entire payment of $343.92 but would only refund me one months payment of $121.96 that they drafted out of my account on file. The first employee did NOT document any calls, or share information with his co-workers. The second caller  more than likely didn't relay our call to any higher authority and the last person I spoke with  was very rude and dismissive. He rudely told me to read their policy even though I was in the time frame of handling my affairs. They more than likely claimed to not have received my first cancellation letter knowing the time frame would near once I finally got a clear answer from them. To this day I still have not received the refunds that were promised to me. I can only imaging the issues I could have faces choosing to remain covered by their warranty. Terrible staff that don't have any customer service skills.

On September 18, 2019, I received a phone call from  in  ,  concerning an extended warranty on my 2015  . I was told to get paper and something to write with to take notes. This I did. Comparing the notes with the actual warranty I received in the mail does not match up a lot of things were left out such as keeping all records and receipts (I misplace and/or lose receipts all the time). Also, I was told that the business 's extended warranty was a Broker for  ,  vehicles. This is one of the reason's that swayed me into this contract purchase. I found out that the Dealership where I purchased my vehicle has never heard of this company or its services. They use another company called  . I was told I had thirty days to review the contract and I could cancel. I was never told that I had to send a written notice if I had been told I never would have agreed to this contract as I deny free magazines subscriptions all the time as I do not want the hassle of trying to cancel. After I received the warranty in the mail on Sept 27th 2019 I called the Auto Services Center and was given the run around about canceling. I even told them I had PTSD and needed this canceled because it would keep me awake at night. Yes it is true and it does/has. Finally after about fifteen minutes I am told I have to send in a written request to have the contract canceled. I write down all the information including address that the written request needs. I even asked if I needed the VIN number and was told "NO". Good thing I read the back of the warranty manual as it says I do need to include the VIN number as well as something about an odometer receipt. The latter I had my dealership fill out. Oh how convenient to leave out vital information. Also in the warranty manual concerning cancellation it mentions sending the cancellation notice to the ADMINISTRATOR. I sent the ADMINISTRATOR along with the SELLER a written letter of notification through certified signed mail. That cost me at least $14.00 dollars. If you are a legit business why would you make it so difficult to cancel and insist that you need all your receipts/records for the warranty. A good mechanic can tell if a vehicle was kept up or not. I use friends who are mechanics at time such as changing the fluids in my car and I don't by garbage. By the way my light comes on when it is time to change the oil. If I don't change it the light will stay on besides do damage to the vehicle which I do not need. I take care of my belongings. Also, a legit business does not have non working numbers. PS when I called to cancel I had to recall several times Static on the line and did not get transferred and one time the call dropped.

I was contacted by SunPath after I brought my car in for a warranty issue in December 2018. Due to the fact that I was unsure whether or not my car was going to need expensive repairs I opted to sign up for an extended warranty coverage plan with them knowing that I had 30 days to cancel no problem if it wasn't going to be needed. I signed up on the 18th of December 2018. Soon after found out the manufacturer was covering all costs due to a recall and called to cancel my plan on the 27th. After having to repeatedly ask for a refund of my money and cancellation of my policy for 10mins+ I was finally told to mail in a letter of cancellation and that a refund for the deposit was being initiated immediately on the call. I waited to see that refund go through said thank you and sent in my letter of cancellation. I assumed that things were closed at that point. Fast forward 7 months later (yes I should really watch my finances more closely but this isn't the issue here) I find out that they've continued to charge me without my knowledge every month since as if my plan was not canceled. Through 16 phone conversations with SunPath and what I now see is their shady billing company "Vehicle Service Center" I've been able to figure out that SunPath confirmed the receipt of my cancellation letter but that either no one at SunPath decided to forward my letter on to "Vehicle Service Center" or "Vehicle Service Center" is just flat out denying receipt in order to keep charging me behind my back. Everyone is extremely rude and combative and victim shaming every time I call and try to get record of my conversations and cancellation letter and the only way for me to try to help myself is to create a stop payment at my bank and enter a formal dispute on the charges. I need someone at SunPath/Vehicle Service Center to confirm my policy is cancelled without being penalized as I asked for it and took all the steps well within the 30day period and I need ALL of my money refunded at this point, not just the downpayment.

SunPath has acknowledged to the consumer in writing that it's initial response was not submitted as, or intended to be, a "final" response. The claims against SunPath arise from the consumer's allegations against a third party, to whom she has also complained. SunPath is attempting to determine if unwanted calls are continuing. In any case, SunPath is not the party contacting the consumer, nor did SunPath authorize any third party to call consumers on its behalf. SunPath will continue to work with the consumer to resolve her issue.

I was contacted on July 3, 2019 by SunPath, LTD to have my car warranty extended and I signed up for a 5 year/100,000 mile warranty and put down $350.00 with 15 payments at 160.60 monthly. I was checking out the company and noticed many bad reviews and that they were hassling people with phone calls and not wanting to give a refund and if they did , it would have to be in writing and notarized and sent back. Sometimes they were still charged the following month. Many recommended to stay away from this company, that it wasn't worth the hassle.. One even stated that they sent in a claim and that it wasn't even honored. I was beginning to feel like I was being scammed. I also checked the e-mail containing the receipt from  and they were not accredited with the BBB. I decided to take the refund they offer within the 30 days of purchase. I contacted my credit company today on July 5, 2019 to stop the payment if possible and *, the representative, said it was pending. They cannot dispute it until it posts but I could stop them from taking out future installments by deactivating my card in case they didn't honor my request to cancel. They also suggested I contact SunPath at 9am when they open to see if they would just let me cancel before it posted. I called @9:15 and spoke to  and told him I wanted to cancel and he wanted to know why so I said that I didn't want the coverage and then when pressed for more reason I said I didn't like the reviews and the Compliance company who sent me the receipt wasn't accredited with the BBB. The phone went dead and I called back and spoke to  again and then he switched me to his supervisor,  who then wanted to have a discussion with me about why I don't want the coverage. I told him the same reasons and asked how I can get my refund. He refused to tell me how and continued to repeat over and over again that we were going to have a conversation so that he could put down something on his form as to why I was cancelling. Again I repeated that I did not like a lot of the negative reviews and that the Compliance company was not accredited that they were affiliated with.  then wanted to debate why I purchased the coverage 2 days ago and then didn't want it. I again told him the same reasons and he still wanted to debate it. I told him that I am allowed to cancel according to their 30 day refundable policy and that I wanted to know how to get the refund or just stop the processing of this coverage since it was still pending. He said it already processed and that" were going to have a discussion" like adults and would not discuss how to get the refund. This conversation went on for 11 minutes with him repeating that "We were going to have a discussion". I told him that I would hang up and call my credit card company back so that they would talk to him and that I would contact the BBB and tell them how he refused to tell me how to get a refund. I hung up at 9:28am and contacted both companies. I was told to file a form with the BBB and to call back my credit card company so that they can dispute it when it posts, tomorrow or Sunday.

The consumer purchased a vehicle service contract administered by SunPath LTD. The vehicle service contract has written coverage terms, conditions, and ancillary benefits that include substitute transportation. The substitute transportation benefit is conditioned upon a covered claim's hourly labor requirement and is set forth as follows: "Rental Vehicle Expense: COVERAGE is calculated as follows: For every (7) hours of authorized labor approved by the ADMINISTRATOR, YOU qualify for one (1) day of reimbursement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if an authorized claim requires more than four (4) hours of authorized labor, YOU will qualify for YOUR first day of reimbursement. If the ADMINISTRATOR requires an inspection which causes a delay, YOU will qualify for one additional day of reimbursement. At all times, the maximum benefit is $35.00 per day. In all cases, total reimbursement will not exceed $175.00. At no time will this benefit exceed the amount YOU were charged for vehicle rental, or otherwise include days that YOUR VEHICLE was not at the repair facility. "For the consumer's claim in April of this year for transmission repairs, SunPath authorized labor of 7 hours to complete the repair. This allowance is a nationally published labor standard and entitled the consumer to one day of substitute transportation benefit. An additional day was provided due to the need for vehicle inspection. A total of two days of substitute transportation was provided and the consumer was provided a check for $70 as set forth in the contract. The coverage determination was at all times made in good faith and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contract, none of which has been waived.

My name is * * and I am assisting my father with this complaint since he does not have a computer or email. On 4-23-2019  purchased a Vehicle Service Center Plan which he does not need or want. While that is not the focus of this complaint the purchase was made because of questionable, high pressure telemarketer practices. It should be noted that  is 88 years old and has mild cognitive deficits. He is on the No Call List and has a screening device on his telephone. Still he was called repeatedly and badgered in to buying this policy. It should also be noted that the policy should be null and void because the mileage  provided, less than 25,000 miles, was rounded up to ,60,000, on the policy thereby causing an inaccurate and inflated premium. In their policy, Sun Path states that the policy can be cancelled at any time and that if the policy is cancelled with in 30 days a full refund will be issued. As we said, this policy is not needed or wanted. We have called Sun Path three times this week attempting to get their cancellation form. The first two times a return call was promised but not received. The third time  refused to provide the form. It should be noted that Sun Path does not provide the form on their website and that we could not find it on the internet. Despite the questionable business practices we encountered so far we are attempting to follow Sun Paths policy requirements to cancel this policy and receive a complete refund. I get repeated calls from this company, in spite of being on the Do Not Call list. I ask repeatedly to not call me, but they continue to do so. And it is definitely SunPath, the last person I spoke to gave me the website info, and an actual working callback number. They may not initiate the calls, but have some other company do it for them, then transfer to SunPath. They then tell you that you can only get the policy if you sign up RIGHT NOW. If you call back later, they won't have the same deal. Today, they then called back and asked for me but by my wife's last name. When I told them my last name, they of course hung up. And I did call back the number they gave, and it was answered by the same company. They clearly ignore the Do Not Call list, as I've been on it for years.

For the last year or so, I have receive at least two calls per week from this business (or possibly from their sales agents), and sometimes as many as six calls in a day. I have never inquired about their products/services, so these are just cold calls they place asking about my car and whether or not it's under warranty. If you don't give them an answer that falls within the parameters they're looking for, they literally just hang up without even so much as a goodbye. But apparently they don't take you off their calling list. They just keep calling until you give them answers they like. It took me this preceding few months to finally figure out how to give them answers that "qualified" me to get more information, and to finally be able to identify them and file this complaint. By the way, my number has been on the national do not call list since it's inception so by law, they shouldn't be calling me in the first place. Further, I have asked numerous times to be removed from their calling list, to no avail. Another thing that seems terribly shady is that they wanted me to give them my credit card number before giving me anything in writing about the extended auto warranty they wanted to sell me. And one last thing, the extended warranty they wanted to sell me was ridiculously expensive: $3,885. I know for a fact that the same warranty can be purchased for about one-third that price, so I would characterize their pricing as "predatory." They even asked for my credit card number before getting my Vehicle Identification Number (VIN), which would have enabled them to verify that I actually HAD the vehicle I told them I had. If their process isn't a total scam, it would surprise me very much.

SunPath is a third party vehicle service agreement provider. Our office does not engage in telephonic solicitation of sales, and did not contact the consumer. We would be happy to work with the consumer to attempt to determine the origin of the unwanted calls he is receiving. As for SunPath products and services, our service agreements are state approved and regulated and provide comprehensive coverages. They are ultimately priced by the selling vendor.

I purchased a service contract on 11/29/2018, by telephone, through SunPath Ltd, after being assured it was a direct dealer with  That was later revealed to be inaccurate information. I purchased a new vehicle on 12/22/2018. On 12/20/2018, I notified the Vehicle Service Center of my intent to purchase a new vehicle and my desire to cancel the existing contract. I followed all the directions given to me by telephone and also those listed in the Contract Declarations pamphlet and submitted the request in writing, with a * Tracking number and return receipt. On 1/14/19, I spoke to , a SunPath Vehicle Protection Specialist, who assured me my request had been received and was being processed for a full refund. On 1/17/19 I spoke to * who assured me my refund would be sent to my home address in 6 -9 weeks. On 2/27/19, I spoke to *, who assured me a Cancellation Specialist would return my call. On 2/28/19, I spoke to  who assured me that I would be called by the end of the workday. On 3/8/19, * stated she would send my complaint of no return calls to the front office and that I would be called back. 3/19/19, * assured me I would receive a call back from the cancellation office between 1-4 pm

CST today. 3/22/19,  assured me I would receive a callback. 3/25/19,  assured me I would receive a callback. 4/3/19,  was very defensive, treating me like I was the villain in this situation but did assure me I would receive a callback. I assured him my next call was going to be to the Better Business Bureau. Today is 4/4/2019, and I still do not have my promised $3,625.00 refund. I am an elderly disabled Veteran and that is a tremendous amount of money to me. I feel I have been more than patient. SunPath will not even respond to my numerous phone calls. I don't know what course of action to take next.
